Step right up, step right up! Ladies and gentleman, boys and girls, dead and undead! You've bought your ticket, now please... right this way. The line for the Dark Carnival appears to be long, but before you know it you'll be standing in front of the eldritch gates. Pass through, and you'll enter a realm unlike anything you've ever experienced. The first attraction that you'll find is our House of Harrowing History. The rooms in this exhibit reveal the tale of two sorry souls transformed by the might of the Dark Carnival into prophets and guides. Watch as two rappers from Southwest Detroit get the power of the Carnival and wreak vengeance on those evil souls who wronged them. Come one, come all, and witness the birth of the Mighty Wicked Clowns.

NEWSLETTER!

by: Jelly Nuts
the "Civil Rights Infringing" Clown

Welcome to the first of many, many, newsletters. Much luv to Chaos! for making it all possible. Each and every issue will contain a fat ass newsletter like this one. Now Juggalos, into the news.

On April 20th, ICP will drop a brand new single. The song is called "Mad Professor". However, this CD or cassette single will include much more than just that song. This single will become a collector's item because of what it contains. Not only does it include the new "Mad Professor" song in its entirety, but it also includes samples from the new album as well as a song called "The New Shit" where ICP does a crazy ass rap about the new album! So this a must get single. Obviously after this single runs its course, "The New Shit" song will never be heard again! The mega-fat "Mad Professor" single will be released in all record stores on April 20th, 1999. Don't sleep on this single, or I'll come over there and flick your nipples.

Check out ICP's new video "Another Love Song" on The Box. If you don't get The Box channel where you live then you probably get the bone. You won't be seeing ICP on MTV anytime soon. MTV has told ICP that they have to change a few things about the video before they will air it, but ICP won't change shit. If you ever see ICP on MTV it will be because MTV gave in, and not ICP. ICP doesn't make videos for MTV, they make them for Juggalos. Fuck MTV.

Finally a magazine is willing to acknowledge ICP and the world's Juggalo presence! In a fat ass way too! Alternative Press magazine (sold nationwide at record stores and bookstores everywhere) is doing a triple ICP cover story! All three covers are out now! One will be of Shaggy, one will be of Violent J and one will be of them both together! It will be the biggest Alternative Press cover story ever. Inside will be a 10-page story about Insane Clown Posse. The good and the bad. Expect ICP to even get dissed in this story. When you do a story this big, the writer has to uncover it all!! So if Violent J likes to play with his nuts before he goes to bed every night, expect it to be in this story! EVERYTHING! This fat ass issue also comes with a free CD inside that contains a never before heard ICP song called "The Dirt Ball" featuring Twiztid. As for you Juggalo collectors out there, we need not tell you about the money things like this go for down the road. This marks ICP's first ever cover story for a major mag like Alternative Press. Juggalos! Get all 3 covers! The ICP 3 cover issue hit stands on May 4th, 1999.

ICP Action Figures. Well we've been hyping these fuckin' things for like 3 years I guess. Well they're finally here. Starting on May 21st go and get them bitches. J comes with a voodoo spear and Shaggy comes with an axe. Both J and Shaggy come in one package. They'll cost about $25 bucks. But they're the shit. You can do whatever you want with them. Burn them, make them hump each other, stick them in your butt, whatever. You can lick their little plastic butts if you want to. We don't care. You can get them at any Camelot Music store or at Spencers Gifts in the mall. They're about 7 inches tall and detailed right down to the tattoos.

Also coming out a month later is the ICP and Twiztid Beenie Boyz. Both ICP and Twiztid come in the same box and there's even a limited edition set box that comes with ICP and Twiztid's manager Alex Abbiss too. That box is harder to find though. You'll have to hit an ICP concert or an instore for that one. The Beenie Boyz are the shit. They are also fully detailed sewn down to the tattoos. They won't be out until June though, but the regular ICP Action Figures hit all Camelot and Spencers gift stores this May. Remember if for some stale reason the Camelot or Spencers near you ain't got them, just tell 'em to fuck off. Bottom line is you can always get the action figures and both sets of Beenie Boyz at any ICP instore or at any ICP concert. That is your best place to find shit.

On May 25th the world will catch on fire. The fire will burn eternally. Life will take a giant step towards death. For many a grim future will be just one shadow away. May 25th, 1999 will mark the arrival of the mighty 5th Jokers Card. The Amazing Jeckel Brothers. Jake and Jack Jeckel. They are a candle, only ignited by your death. Once lit, from the wick's fire emerge Jake and Jack, a juggling team that will attempt to juggle your sins. Their performance will determine your soul's resting-place. Jake is of your positive deeds. Jack is of your negative. Each act of evil you commit during this life is another ball they must together juggle. Each act of kindness is one less ball. Jake and Jack are both reflections of you. Who will win? Which side of you dominates your soul? Positivity or negativity? Good or bad? When you die, you'll sit and watch your destiny unfold in a juggling act. Your good side will battle your bad side. As Jack throws out your sins Jake counters with your love. Which side will win the battle? Who will take your soul? Good or evil? Only you truly know the answer to that. Just look at yourself. That's what we're all about. Trying to get you to look at yourself and wake up.

On May 25th, The Dark Carnival will offer you yet another look at yourself, the 5th view. All 6 desperately trying to open your eyes before your dark future becomes your present. If your brain cannot handle that flavor, then try this...

Yeah! The Jeckel Brothers comes out on May 25th! 16 tracks! Featuring songs with Old Dirty Bastard, Snoop Dogg, and Twiztid! Plus 2 skits done by the Jerky Boys! This album is classic ICP. We promise you that. This record is more classic ICP than the classic ICP is! Don't doubt it!

On this record ICP fights back and talks helly shit to the world. This is ICP's response to all the criticisms and hatred that they received over the last 2 years. ICP is not for the world, they are for the Juggalos and J and Shaggy make that very clear on The Amazing Jeckel Brothers.

Here are the songs that are on "The Amazing Jeckel Brothers":

Jake Jeckel... Bring It On... I Want My Shit... Bitches! w/ Old Dirty Bastard... Jerky Boy Skit 1... Terrible... I Stab People...

Another Love Song... Everybody Rize... Play With Me... Jack Jeckel... Fuck The World... The Shaggy Show w/Snoop Dogg... Mad Professor... Assassins (a remake of the Geto Boys classic)... Jerky Boy Skit 2... Echoside w/ Twiztid... Nothing's Left.

Here's some more crazy ass news about the new album. There are two different versions! One is Jake Jeckel and one is Jack Jeckel. Don't worry, both versions have the same exact music on them, but the covers and the inside booklets are completely different! All the booklet photos and credits and all that shit are completely different.

The entire album's music was written, produced, and engineered by Mike E. Clark as usual. So you know that it will have that same ruthless ICP flavor as always. Both versions of The Amazing Jeckel Brothers will be at every record store in the world on May 25th. But if your city is fresh than there should become stores selling at midnight on May 24th. By the way, if you look deep in the credits of Jake and Jack Jeckel, you find out how you can get a whole other ICP album that nobody in the world knows about... SHHHHHHHH!!! Check it out.

Starting May 25th (the day the new album comes out), ICP along with Psychopathic Records label mates and closest homies Twiztid and Blaze will climb inside of the new fire coated, crazy ass looking, Jeckel Brothers Tour Bus and launch a mega-large instore tour to meet all you Juggalos. ICP will set out coast to coast to meet you Juggalos face to face and in person. Here's how it will work. You'll go to the record store. You wait in line outside for a few hours kickin' it with other Juggalos like yourself. Then when you get up to the front, you'll go into the record store. There you'll see a big, dark, chamber thing set up inside of the store. This strange thing is called... The Psychopathic Asylum. The doctors will let you and your homies inside. Boom! Once inside, it's dark, loud, and foggy. To your left you'll see Blaze behind some glass. Blaze is Psychopathic Records newest find. His album will be out later this year. Then you'll turn the corner and you find Twiztid behind some glass as well. Then you'll walk around one last corner and there under the blue lights, lost in the fog will be J and Shaggy in the flesh waiting to meet you.

The Asylum was constructed by professional movie set builders and it takes a semi truck to haul it. The Psychopathic Asylum will travel the country greeting Juggalos from May 25th until July 1st. Oh yeah, every single person that goes through the Asylum and meets ICP will receive a brand new Psychopathic Records Sampler. The sampler also contains a never heard before ICP song called "Sleep Walker." This sampler is free but the only way to get it is to get to the Asylum. Also each stop the Asylum makes will be a good place to find other rare merchandise and hard to find ICP shit. If you want to know where ICP and the Asylum will be closest to you, call the absolutely free Psychopathic Asylum Hotline at (734) 913-9832.

June 22nd, baby. ICP homies and Psychopathic label mates Twiztid are finally coming out correctly. Twiztid's full-length album "Mostasteless" contains 4 songs with ICP will be re-released this time, to record stores nationwide, June 22nd on Psychopathic/Island Records. Finally it will be out everywhere and easy to find. If you already have the local version of Twiztid's album "Mostasteless," here's why you'll need to get the new version...

The whole album was re-mixed and hooked up by Mike E. Clark. Plus it also has 6 brand new songs that weren't on the local version as well as 3 more songs with ICP. Not to mention that the album was professionally mastered this time which means that its louder, clearer, and it thumps way harder than before. That means that it attacks your brain and stabs it way harder than the other cheap local version. Plus it has a new, fat ass cover illustrated by the folks at Chaos! Comics. Look for the new Twiztid video "How Does It Feel" on The Box channel in June, but just like ICP, don't expect any love from MTV. Twiztid helps ICP show the world that there are groups that don't need to follow the standard industry path to be heard. Twiztid and ICP both know that if you're a radio bitch boy, just a quick as the radio picked you up, they will drop you when the next big thing comes along. Fuck the radio, fuck MTV, and fuck everything that world has to offer. We'll stay underground. Just leave us the fuck alone as we rock shows, fuck hoes, and smoke those in this here Juggalo world forever. It will arrive in July.

Yes it's true. ICP has filmed a full length 90 minute motion picture. The movie is called "Big Money Hustlas" and it cost about 1,000,000 dollars of Polygram's money. The movie will be released straight to video in July. The film stars ICP and Twiztid along with co-stars Harland Williams (of Half Baked, Something About Mary, Dumb and Dumber, Rocket Man, etc.) The Jerky Boys, Fred Berry (Rerun), Jump Steady, Stefan Kudek, Mankind from the WWF, Rudy Ray Moore (Dolomite) and more. Themovie is a comedy and it's mad, mad, MAD fuckin' funny.

Shaggy plays Sugar Bear... a cop from San Francisco who is stuck in the 70's. He thinks he's Dolomite. Sugar Bear has cleaned up all the crime in Frisco so he heads east for tougher turf and he finds it in the Big Apple.

Violent J plays Big Baby Sweets... a mob boss who runs the streets of New York City. Twiztid play his two side kicks, Big Stank and Lil' Poot. Big Baby Sweets and his gang got the entire city of New York locked down.

Sugar Bear comes to New York and quickly discovers that Big Baby Sweets is the man behind most of New York's biggest crimes. They battle each other throughout the movie. It's the shit. You gotta see this crazy shit. The movie was going to be released to theaters in July, but ICP was against that. J and Shaggy feel that Big Money Hustlas is a film made for the Juggalos by Juggalos. If it were to hit theatres everywhere, thousands of people would go and see it that ain't Juggalos and don't understand Juggalo humor... and therefore the movie would just get dissed. Everyone would say the movie sucked. Nobody would get it and it would be called a flop. ICP feels that in order to avoid all that bullshit, it's way better to just drop the movie straight to video and that way only ICP fans that want it will see it. This is our own Juggalo world so lets keep our movie in that world.

Big Money Hustlas will be out on video at all record stores and all video stores in July. There will be 2 big movie theater showings however, one will be in Detroit and one will be in New York. A theater in New York will host Polygram's premier party and a theater in Detroit will host ICP's premier party.

If you want to attend one of these parties to see the movie on the big screen, then call Psychopathic Records in June for the exact dates and locations (248) 347-3313

4 months worth of dates in the US alone. Starting in July. The stage is being constructed in the depths of The Dark Carnival as we speak. 3 semi trucks worth of stage, lights, and sound. No lie. No exaggeration. That's some old Michael Jackson shit right there. 3 busses of crew to make it all work. This tour uses so many trucks and busses to haul it all, that we're like a moving traffic jam. We hire so many redneck's to drive our shit you'd think the south was rising again. This tour is MONSTROUS. But yo, let me tell you this. ICP just turned down an attractive offer from the OzzFest.

Why? Because Ozzy can come and do our Juggalo Fest Baby!!! We don't need to tour with all them bands! We're the Dark Carnival! We travel alone! The tour will absolutely, positively start in July with no exceptions. Only 2 bands are a definite at this moment and that is of course ICP and Twiztid. The other bands that might jump aboard the tour that we are talking with are Coal Chamber, Kool Keith, Vanilla Fuckin' Ice... and possibly The Lords of Brooklyn. Its looking like Coal Chamber and Kool Keith will be the ones. That would be the nuclear bomb if that happens, but who knows? It seems like it changes every fuckin' day. Regardless... you can bet that in July, you will see J and Shaggy take to the stage where they belong. Not in a movie or in a fuckin' wrestling ring, but ON STAGE. A smoky, sweaty, loud-ass, beer-smellin' club packed with psychopathic Juggalos screaming the words to serial killer music. ICP will return to that realm in July and they'll be ripping buildings in half with a sound system so loud that ninjas on Jupiter will tell us to turn it down. With stage lights so bright that Stevie Wonder has to squint, and a stage so big that Yokozuna could do a ballet dance on that bitch if he wanted to. The Amazing Jeckel Brothers Tour will launch in July of 1999. Bet that.

ICP's long time homie Myzery has left Psychopathic Records, this time for good. We won't make no fuckin' lie about why, we will just flat out tell you the truth. Myzery does New York style hip-hop. ICP does something way, way different. ICP and Myzery just could not see eye on music. After two tours with ICP, Myzery has left the company to try different avenues. Psychopathic Records is an underground label that is gaining a big reputation for putting out bizarre and wild acts... Myzery is not that bizarre. Maybe a little wild, but not very bizarre. The two didn't fit. So ICP and Myzery set aside their personal feelings and let business talk. Business said that Myzery should head back to New York and follow his roots and ICP should head back down into the trenches of the under-world, and follow their roots. We'll miss Myzery and one thing that any Juggalo that has seen him live has to admit, "That ninja might not rap about choppin' heads off, but that kid can sure rock a fuckin' crowd!" Peace Myzery, we'll miss you ninja!

Twiztid's Jamie Maddrox and The Monoxide Child were both recently sentenced 8 months probation and a 500 dollar fine in a Detroit court room for a weed smoking charge. They'll have to take a piss test at random for the next 8 months and report to a probation officer once a month. This won't interfere with anything they have going on with Psychopathic Records. In fact, why are we even telling you this? Fuck it, we're done. Who cares.

A recap of ICP's massive attack on the world...

1. Available now... ICP's "Mad Professor" single and sampler comes out in record stores everywhere on Cassette & CD. The single also features samples from the new album plus a rare song called "The New Shit."

2. Showing now... ICP's new video "Another Love Song" hits The Box Channel. Once again don't expect love from MTV. The song is crazy and it features Violent J singing... not rapping but actually SINGING!

3. On stands now... Alternative Press Magazine's triple ICP cover story is out. All 3 issues simultaneously hit stands nationwide at record stores and book stores and everywhere they sell mags. If you somehow can't find it then fuck off!

4. Available now... ICP's "Play With Me" Action Figures finally hit store shelves at all Camelot Stores and Spencers Gifts. They also will be sold at all ICP instores and concerts. From Yot Toys. Both figures come in one package for about $25 bucks.

5. May 25th ... ICP's new album and 5th Jokers Card, The Amazing Jeckel Brothers, is released. There is 2 covers available to the same album. One is Jake Jeckel and the other is Jack Jeckel. Both will be on cassette or CD worldwide.

6. May 25th until July 1st... The Psychopathic Asylum Instore Tour sets out to meet Juggalos in person from coast to coast. All that attend the instore will receive a free brand new sampler CD featuring a unreleased ICP song.

7. June 22nd... Twiztid's album "Mostasteless," gets re-released nationwide by Psychopathic/Island Records. The record has 6 new tracks and 3 new songs with ICP. It will be out on cassette and CD everywhere they sell good music.

8. July... ICP's movie, Big Money Hustlas, comes out on video everywhere. The movie features costars Harland Williams, Mankind, The Jerky Boys, Rudy Ray Moore, Stefan Kudek, and Jump Steady. The film is 90 minutes long.

9. July... ICP's ENOURMOUS Amazing Jeckel Brothers World Tour launches. ICP and Twiztid, along with 1 or 2 more bands, will destroy each and every city they play. 3 semis and 3 busses worth of show comes to every major city in the U.S.

Also, look for ICP in an upcoming issue of Penthouse Magazine. ICP recently did a photo shoot for Penthouse in New York with one of Penthouse's chicks! She was naked, too! Don't worry, ICP was fully dressed, except for Shaggy... he has the butt cut out of his pants like Prince.

Oh yeah, today's words of wisdom are...

"Never flick a pitbull's nutsack, no matter how tempting it is just hanging there swinging like that".
